

NAMES OF WHICH THE FIRST LETTERS ARE MISSING
(IN REVERSE-INDEX ORDER)

560. [•]αβανοβανδαγο m.: B BD1, ah6. — P [...]aban-bandag, named in a list. — D “Slave of ...”. It seems that the first component cannot be merely αβανο (MP Ābān “the Waters”, attested in Bactrian as a month-name, BD2, 181a), as these letters are preceded by at least one more letter. Cf. the following name.

561. ]βανοβανδαγο m.: B BD2, zb7*. — P [...]ban-bandag, copyist of a Buddhist manuscript. — D “Slave of ...”. Possibly the same as the preceding name.

562. ]βανδαγο m.: B BD2, zb1*. — P [...]bandag, husband(?) of [...]sag-dukht (582), together with whom he seems to have commissioned the copying of a Buddhist manuscript (see SW 2000, 277). — D “Slave of ...”.

563. ](ορ)αγο m.: B Hc167. — P [...]rag, father of the owner of a seal. — D Perhaps a compound in -βοραγο “son of ...”, cf. 410.

564. ]λμαζαδο m.: B BD2, df2*. — P [...]lm-azad Bayaspan, sender of a letter. — D A compound of αζαδο “noble” (see s.v. αζαδοφαρδαρο, 12). Possible restorations for the prior component are ]τα]λμ- (cf. ταλμοζηνο, 462) or ]μη]λμ- (cf. μηλμοκο, 245).

565. ]οζ(αδο) m.: B Saeedi no. 4. — P [...]zad, owner of a seal. — D The writing seems to indicate a name containing ζαδο “born, begotten” (cf. μιροζαδο, 250) rather than αζαδο “noble” (for which see s.v. αζαδοφαρδαρο, 12).

566. *μo]ζδο m. PN(?): B BD1, ae, verso. — P [...-mu]zd, witness to a contract? — D Possibly a compound with **μoζδο* “reward”, cf. βoδδο-μoζδο (93), λαδομoζδο (228), or yet another attestation of one of the common names μoζδο (546) or ωvρομoζδο (546).

567. *Joβιδo m.: B BD2, xd1. — P [...]-bid, an Afghan, addressee of a letter. — D In origin a title, cf. the next.

568. *JBIΔO m. PN(?): B Surkh Kotal, Palamedes inscription, line 1 (CUIEL 1954, 194-197, as corrected by HENNING 1960, 50 n. 9, and 1965, 80 n. 28: ]βιδo ι ζηνοβιδo ι αβτο). — P Name(?) of an official who bears the titles ζηνοβιδo “chief armourer” and αβτο[oαλγο. Thus SW-CRIBB 1996, 86, and SW 1998, 86; but it cannot be excluded that this word is yet another title as assumed by HENNING and others. — D At least in origin a title ending in -βιδo “chief, master” < **-pati-*.

569. *Jσπιδo m. PN(?): B BD2, xg4*. — P [...]spid, name or title of a person named in a letter. — D Perhaps in origin a title ending in **-pati-* “chief, master”, Bactr. -βιδo, with preservation of -p- in direct contact with the preceding -s-. An obvious restoration would be **[oi]σπιδo* < **wis-pati-*, Av. vīspaiti- “master of a village”. The different phonological development seen in οισβοργo, **οισβορο* < **wisah puθra(-ka)-*, Av. vīśō puθra- “prince” (see 349-9), may be attributed to the fact that in this case the contact between -s- and **-p-* is secondary.

570. *Jζooαραζo m.: B BD2, xf1. — P [...]z-waraz Shah [...], addressee of a letter. — D A possible restoration, suggested to me by R. SCHMITT, would be [πιρω]ζooαραζo “[Piro]z-waraz”, cf. 312 above, a name consisting of the same two elements in the opposite order.

It is not clear whether the following παv[...] is a patr./FN or a title, e.g. παv[ραβο] “satrap”.

571. *Joοραζo m.: B BD2, jd8. — P [...]wuraz, named in a letter. — D Compound containing **ooραζo* “boar” (see 356) as its second component.

572. Ἰταιο m.: B BD1, I4'*. — P [...]tay Pandukan (fl. 483 C.E.), witness to a contract. — D Unclear. Regarding the possibility of a name-component ται- see s.v. ταιαγο (459).

573. Ἰμο m.: B BD2, jd1*. — P [...]iy Bunakan, addressee of a letter. — D Unclear.

574. Ἰ(ρ)οβοκο m.: B Hc048. — P [...]rushuk Pirozan, owner of a seal. — D Presumably a hypocoristic in -κο.

575. Ἰοκο m.: B BD1, aa6. — P [...]uk, witness to a contract. — D Presumably a hypocoristic in -κο.

576. Ἰοβοζανο m. PN(?): B BD2, xg2*. — P [...]buzan, khar of Rob, sender of a letter. — D Probably a compound name containing **βοζανο* as a variant spelling of βωζανο (108). It is also possible that Ἰοβοζανο (or just βοζανο) is a patr./FN and that the name of the sender is missing in the preceding lacuna. In that case the underlying PN could be βοζο (94) or a form ending in -βοζο (cf. perhaps τωσοβωζο(?) s.v. τωσο, 477).

577. Ἰμανο m.: B BD1, ak24*. — P [...]man, person or family named in a list. — D Unclear.

578. Ἰγγινο m.: B BD2, jg1. — P [...]ngin, a tarkhan, addressee of a letter. — D Unclear.

579. Ἰφαρο m.: B BD1, ai7*. — P [...]far, named in a list. — D Compound containing φαρο < **farnah-* “glory”.

580. Ἰαγοζιρο m.: B Hc149. — P [...]ag-zir, owner of a seal. — D Perhaps a compound containing -ζιρο < Skt. śrī-, cf. βοδδοζιρο (91).

581. Ἰτισο m.: B SW 2005, Ss2f. — P [...]tis (fl. 698 C.E.), son of Berd or Beraw (81), from Bokhara, party to a contract. — D Probably a hypocoristic in -σο.

582. Ἰσαγοδοχτο f.: B BD2, zb1*. — P [...]sag-dukht, wife(?) of [...]bandag (562), together with whom she seems to have commissioned the copying of a Buddhist manuscript (see SW 2000, 277). — D A MP compound PN containing duxt “daughter” as second component. Differently TREMBLAY 2009, 340, who offers a hypothetical restoration [οη]σαγοδοχτο together with an extremely adventurous etymology.

583. Ἰοσηβο m.: B BD1, aa6*. — P [...]wesh, witness to a contract. — D Compound containing the DN οηβο “Wesh”, see 330.
