

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface and acknowledgements	vii
Note on Transliteration of Tibetan	viii
Introductory Chapters
1 General Introduction	1
2 Why did the Phur pa tradition become so prominent in Tibet?	15
3 The Dunhuang Phur pa Corpus: a Survey	32
History and Doctrine
4 Pelliot Tibétain 44: A. Reflections on the Text	41
Pelliot Tibétain 44: B. The Text	56
Soteriological Ritual Texts
5 IOL Tib J 331.III: A Discussion of the Text and its Parallels in the Phur pa Literature	68
6 IOL Tib J 331.III: The Text	88
Appendix to Chapter 6	125
7 IOL Tib J 754 Section 7: A Set of Notes on Phur pa Ritual and its Significance	136
8 Pelliot Tibétain 349: the Text and Comments	147
8b Appendix to Chapter 8	162
Scriptural Texts
9 Sections of IOL Tib J 438: A Dunhuang version of the Guhyasamāja with commentary	166
10 Sections of IOL Tib J 321: The Thabs kyi zhags pa pad ma 'phreng	181
Miscellaneous
11 Fragments, Cursory Treatment, Dhāraṇīs and Pragmatic Rites	194
Bibliography	212
Index	225
CD Images of Dunhuang Manuscripts from the Stein Collection in London	