

17 (p. 59)

Alpine valley with scree slopes left, extending west from in front of main Rock Gate or Shih-men whose limestone bluffs are seen here laterally from an elevation of 13,159 feet. A similar scree valley leads east, middle distance. Summit of Min Shan, Kan-su.

18 (p. 59)

Alpine valley with scree slopes leading west from in front of the main Rock Gate or Shih-men. The high rocky bluffs to the left form the Shih-men viewed laterally. A similar ravine leads east, opposite the valley in foreground; photographed from summit pass, elevation 13150 feet.