

33 (p. 92)

In the valley of To-er (kou) or Do-ru Nang; to the left the Sa-kya Lamasery of Pe-ku Gom-pa or Pai-ku ssu, elevation 7400 feet. The walls of the lamasery are striped red and white. Looking down stream. In the distance, center is visible the lamasery of Ra-gya Gom-pa.

34 (p. 92)

Cutting a trail through the snow on Yang-pu Shan, over 12300 feet. For two days our men and The-wu Tibetans of Yang-pu cut and shovelled a path over the snow-covered slopes to the path. The Rhododendrons visible in the snow are Rhod. przewalskii. The Kan-su – Ssu-ch'uan divide.